

Guidelines for Prospective Models

There are many dangerous people in the world. I like to think I'm not one of them, unless I'm threatened.

That said, if models follow the rules below the chances of getting themselves into a bad situation are slight.

1. Have a cell phone with you when you go to the location.
2. Get as much information about the photographer as possible.
3. Demand a photographer provide you with references.
4. Have your initial consultation in a public place.
5. Have the photographer give a full, detailed description of what the shoot will involve.
6. Have the photographer show examples of his or her work.
7. Make sure someone knows where you are going and what time you will return.
8. If plans or locations change or if you are going to be working later than expected, let someone know.
9. A chaperone is good.

YOUR SAFETY IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY!!!!
